

NST 3/3/2019 m/s 56

HOODWINKING FISH

A hoodwinker sunfish is seen on a beach in Santa Barbara, California, in these recent pictures obtained from social media. The fish was last discovered in 2017. Scientists say there are five species of saltwater sunfish, and they come from different places. One enjoys tropical waters, another likes the subtropics and the hoodwinker prefers temperate waters. REUTERS PIC

